Effective Date: January 1, 2025

Last Reviewed: June 1, 2025

Owner: People Operations and Legal

Purpose

Daisy Health is committed to a workplace where every employee feels respected, safe, and valued. This policy outlines the standards of conduct expected of all Daisy Health employees and the process for reporting and addressing violations.

Scope

This policy applies to all Daisy Health employees, contractors, and vendors in all work settings — including remote work, virtual meetings, company events, and any context where an employee represents Daisy Health.

1. Core Values and Expected Conduct

Every Daisy Health employee is expected to:

- Treat colleagues, patients, and partners with respect and dignity
- Act with honesty and integrity in all work activities
- Communicate professionally and constructively, including in written and virtual settings
- Protect confidential information — patient, employee, and company data
- Follow all applicable laws and Daisy Health policies
- Report concerns promptly and in good faith

These expectations apply equally in Slack messages, emails, video calls, and any other work communication channel.

2. Anti-Harassment and Anti-Discrimination Policy

Daisy Health strictly prohibits harassment and discrimination of any kind. This includes conduct based on:

- Race, color, ethnicity, or national origin
- Gender, gender identity, or gender expression
- Sexual orientation
- Religion or creed
- Age
- Disability or medical condition
- Pregnancy or parental status
- Veteran or military status
- Any other characteristic protected by applicable law

What Is Harassment?

Harassment is any unwelcome conduct that creates a hostile, intimidating, or offensive work environment. Examples include:

- Offensive jokes, slurs, or derogatory comments
- Unwanted physical contact (in in-person settings)
- Persistent unwanted communication after being asked to stop
- Sharing offensive images, memes, or content in work channels
- Mimicking or mocking a colleague's accent, speech, or mannerisms

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. This includes conduct in virtual settings such as inappropriate messages, images, or comments in video calls.

Daisy Health has zero tolerance for sexual harassment.

3. Professional Communication Standards

Because Daisy Health is a virtual-first company, most interactions happen in writing or on video. Employees are expected to:

- Use professional and respectful language in all written communications
- Avoid all-caps messages, which can read as aggressive
- Respond to messages from colleagues within one business day during working hours
- Be on time to scheduled virtual meetings and notify the organizer if you will be late or absent
- Keep video backgrounds professional and appropriate during patient or client-facing calls
- Not record video calls without the explicit consent of all participants

4. Conflicts of Interest

Employees must avoid situations where personal interests conflict — or appear to conflict — with Daisy Health's interests. Examples include:

- Owning a financial interest in a competitor or vendor
- Hiring or supervising a close family member without disclosure
- Accepting gifts from vendors or partners valued over $50
- Using Daisy Health resources (time, equipment, data) for personal business

Employees must disclose potential conflicts of interest to People Operations in writing. Disclosure does not automatically mean the activity is prohibited — Daisy Health will work with you to find an appropriate resolution.

5. Social Media and Public Communications

Employees may have personal social media accounts, but must:

- Not share confidential Daisy Health information, including patient data, unreleased products, or internal strategy
- Not make statements that could be construed as official Daisy Health positions without authorization from Communications
- Not disparage Daisy Health, its patients, or colleagues on public platforms
- Clearly indicate that personal opinions are their own, not Daisy Health's, if their Daisy Health affiliation is visible

Employees authorized to post on behalf of Daisy Health must follow the Social Media Guidelines issued by the Communications team.

6. Substance Use

Daisy Health prohibits working while impaired by alcohol or any controlled substance. This includes virtual work settings. Clinical staff are subject to additional requirements and may be subject to drug testing per state regulations or health plan contracts.

7. Workplace Violence and Threats

Daisy Health has zero tolerance for threats, intimidation, or acts of violence — including threats made in writing, verbally, or through electronic means. Any employee who makes a credible threat of harm to a colleague, patient, or any other person will be subject to immediate termination and referral to law enforcement.

8. How to Report a Concern

Daisy Health encourages employees to report concerns promptly. You have several options:

Direct Report to Manager

For minor interpersonal issues, speaking directly with your manager is often the fastest path to resolution.

People Operations

Email people@daisyhealth.com or schedule a confidential meeting with a People Operations partner. People Operations handles all formal complaints.

Anonymous Ethics Hotline

Employees may report concerns anonymously through Daisy Health's Ethics Hotline at 1-800-DAISY-ETH or online at ethics.daisyhealth.com. Anonymous reports are taken seriously and investigated to the extent possible.

Legal or Compliance

For concerns involving potential legal violations, patient safety, or regulatory compliance, employees may contact the Legal team at legal@daisyhealth.com.

9. Investigation Process

All formal complaints are investigated promptly, typically within 10 business days of receipt. The investigation process includes:

- Initial intake and documentation of the complaint
- Interviews with the reporting employee, respondent, and any witnesses
- Review of relevant communications and records
- A written finding and recommended action
- Communication of the outcome to the reporting employee (subject to privacy limitations)

Investigations are conducted confidentially to the extent possible. Employees are expected to cooperate fully.

10. Non-Retaliation

Daisy Health strictly prohibits retaliation against any employee who:

- Reports a concern in good faith
- Participates in an investigation
- Exercises any right protected by law

Retaliation is itself a serious violation of this policy and will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

11. Disciplinary Action

Violations of this policy may result in:

- Verbal or written warning
- Performance improvement plan (PIP)
- Suspension with or without pay
- Demotion
- Termination

The severity of the response depends on the nature and seriousness of the violation, prior history, and other relevant factors. Daisy Health reserves the right to skip progressive discipline steps for serious violations.
